From: Chris Dos
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/23/02 9:10am
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

This is not a good thing. Microsoft has been strangling the computer industry for years. It's operating system is a monopoly and it must be stopped. Force Microsoft to open up the source code to it's operating systems so other vendors can make competing products. My thoughts are to break Microsoft up into four companies.

1) Operating Systems

2) Applications such as Microsoft Office

3) Internet Portal such as MSN

4) Internet applications such as Internet Explorer, IIS, etc.

Only once this is done, will we see competition brought back to the market.

Sincerely,

Chris Dos

--
Chris Dos   President
Open Innovations LLC
http://www.open-innovations.com
email: chris@open-innovations.com